

Objective & Strategy

This strategy seeks long-term capital appreciation and current income. The manager aims to achieve this goal by combining top-ranked stocks from Moran Wealth Management's Conservative Growth and Core Value styles into one customized strategy. Accordingly, the strategy will invest in a blend of undervalued and high growth potential large-capitalization companies with dividend yields.

Beta - Beta is a measure of systematic risk with respect to a benchmark. Systematic risk is the tendency of the value of the fund and the value of the benchmark to move together. Beta measures the sensitivity of the fund's excess total return (total return minus the risk-free return) with respect to the benchmark's excess return that results from their systematic co-movement.

The Russell 3000 Index measures the performance of the 3,000 largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization, which represents approximately 98% of the investable U.S. equity market.

The benchmark for the Conservative Select Portfolio is the Russell 3000 Index. This index became the comparison benchmark for the Conservative Select Portfolio on 9/30/2019 and was changed retroactively back to inception from the Dow Jones Industrial Average. The underlying stock selection and portfolio management process remain unchanged. The benchmark was changed to create a more accurate representation of the portfolio's size and style characteristics. Information regarding the comparison to the Dow Jones Industrial Average is available upon request.
